As most of you know, we are in Hurricane Season now and with that, always comes worry and questions.

The Town always follows what Clay County Emergency Operations Center (CCEOC) suggests doing to prepare and stay safe during dangerous weather. The Town staff wants to be sure the Residents are safe and prepared for any approaching storm. Town Management always attends all the required CCEOC meetings before, during, and after a storm has affected our area.

Clay County has an Emergency Alert System that anyone who lives in Clay County can get sent to their mobile or home phone. These alerts include evacuation notices, flash flood warnings, tornado warnings, and missing person(s) notices in the area you live.

You can sign up for Alert Clay at Alert@Claycountygov.com:

Stay updated before, during, and after a significant event or storm by following Clay County Emergency Management on social media (Facebook, Instagram, and X). Call centers may be opened before, during, or after a storm or major event to help residents with questions and take information. Residents can reach the call center at 1-877-CLAYEOC. Clay County offers translation services and assistance for those who are deaf or hard of hearing. The county will alert our community when call centers are open.
